Life & Leisure Magazine, Issue 9, August 2009

LIGHTLY GOES

CLOCKWISE ABOVE FROM TOP LEFT FRENCH POLISH The Bouroullec brothers have teamed up with Japan Made to produce this lacquered Wajima desk lamp. NEW LAMPS FOR OLD Wombat Hollow's lamps are made from recycled industrial artefacts. Through Edit in Sydney. CAGED HEAT Diesel has teamed up with the Italian designers Moroso and lighting designers Foscarini for its first homewares range – shown here is the utilitarian Cage lamp – not yet in production. FULL BEAM AHEAD Established & Sons' glamorous Flatliner LED light by designer Jason Bruge. STARRY STARRY NIGHTS The current is carried to the LEDs along the steel arms of Mooool's magical Raimond lights.

Available through Space Furniture. PACKING A PUNCH David Gardener's Packaging Lamp reduces waste by using a paper pulp form that doubles as packaging for the lamp's components. IMPRESSED VIEWING Designer Tom Dixon uses industrial cast glass for his rough-finish new pendant lights. NOW YOU SEE IT Viabizzuno's La Dodo recessed architectural lighting is now at Gineico.
